

CHAD E COOPER®

Chad is frequently requested by the top financial moguls, United Nations Representatives, professional athletes such as WBO, MLB, NHL, NFL, USAT University Coaches, Olympic Gold Medalist and as a top ranked speaker.

Formerly a corporate executive in the IT Industry, Chad retired at the young age of 35 and has been making an impact ever since. An accomplished athlete, businessman, philanthropist, and Super Dad, and former top coach with the #1 coaching organization in the world.

Founder of Legendary Lifestyle™ which is having power to make as well as the art and science of navigating your own intentional life. This comes by mastering your 168 hour week and the knowledge of who you are and how you will show up for life.

Chad believes anyone who can have Time serve them, will be successful. People like Oprah Winfrey (actor, producer, director), Bill Gates of Microsoft and just a couple examples of people that are living extraordinary lives, to be sure, but there's nothing in their DNA that makes them exceptional human beings. It was not their talent alone that brought them their success that made all their achievements possible, it's their use of time and owning the right tools.

Looking to change your upcoming event from ordinary too extraordinary?

Chad's speaking events are about building unique, dynamic, and inspirational experiences and each one is customized to your desired time frame, outcomes, location, and level of activity.

See- <http://chadecooper.com>

To book please contact Devra Jacobs at (910) 399-5069
devra@dancingwordgroup.com

Fulfilled People Increase Revenue, Creativity And Innovation! Time Isn't the Problem- Four Strategies to Transform Stress into Success

We start out magical...expansive...truly unlimited. Then something happens... dreams get smashed hearts get broken...imagination gets it's butt kicked to the curb. Just to get by, we create ways to make sure that never happens again. Is this where you are right now? Are you being harassed by the voices that say: Am I enough? Or There's gotta be something more to life than this! I'm overwhelmed... too much to do... and not enough time. Just when I start to get some traction, life keeps hitting me and knocking me down. I know these voices, because they used to be mine...and it sucked.

Together I can show you how to identify the main things that everyone who has gone from SURVIVING to THRIVING has faced and conquered. If you knew these things years ago, it could've saved you hundreds of thousands of dollars, maybe a marriage, and definitely time that you can't get back.

Knowing you only have 168 – hours in a week and that these 168 – hours are all there is and you can't buy more is the most important step. Once you use them they're gone forever. But, if you know how to use your hours wisely, anything's possible including learning how to live a Legendary Lifestyle™.

Take-Aways

- Attendees will learn not to strive for success for other people's approval, but for their own self-worth by restoring people beliefs in themselves.
- Attendees will learn how to empty their cup then fill it with true purpose
- Attendees learn how to achieve balance in work, home life, and fun as part of their schedule.
- Attendees will learn to master the 168 hours and have time serve them
- When you remove the stress everyone is more productive.

Chad teaches the audience the tools for solving their most common problems.

- I never have enough time.
- Life keeps hitting and knocking me down
- I am fried how do I take a break
- Why do we always want more and want it now.
- How to solving the "to do list"
- How to break down the complex and make it simple and clear
- Dissolving the fear of being ordinary.